FOR AND AGAINST THE MONOPOLY.

The people of Los Angeles have not failed to note the antagonistic attitude occupied on the railroad question by these two brothers in Democratic journalism, the Examiner and Express. The former has done days ago pretensions "outraging" on the subject, in which, after more or less "bustling around the bush," and distinctly, in terms, waiving the whole question of railroad management, it took position in favor of the great monopoly, on the declared ground that the railroad is now doing so much good to the southern section of the State that the best "election card" for the Democratic party to play here is not the anti-monopoly card which the San Jose Convention and the State organ of the party, the Zeal, so ostentatiously slapped down upon the political gaming-table. The uncertain Express first gave a quasi endorsement to its esteemed contemporary's position, then, upon second thought, a few days thereafter, reversed brakes and "bounced" its brother. The antagonism between the Examiner and its Los Angeles morning Democratic contemporary is yet more marked. The Examiner is making a most pronounced, persistent, relentless, and effective fight against the giant monopoly. It exhibits much breadth between the eyes in dealing with this overshadowing question. Our local contemporary takes, we think, a narrow view of a great question, which can not be justly judged from a local standpoint. The fact that the coming of the railroad to this southern country has brought with it a certain prosperity—a prosperity which, be it remembered, was heavily paid for long before it arrived—is no sufficient reason why the great evil which ever flows from corporations uncontrolled should be overlooked or condoned. The great bottom fact to be kept in view is this: The corporation is not the State, as it is practically seeking to make itself. It has the audacious assurance to claim through its attorneys the right of eminent domain, and boldly disputes the power and the right of the State to intervene between it and the people whose substance it is eating out, or to place any restriction upon its transportation charges. The Los Angeles Democratic champion of the monopoly, as an aside seems to think this is all right. It is apparently content to have the Pacific Railroad magnates of California go on indefinitely amassing wealth at the expense of the million inhabitants of the State. Look at the startling array of figures bearing upon this subject which is produced by the San Francisco Examiner, and the which we believe to be within the mark:

The profits of the railroads of this State have nearly all accrued to the four persons who make up the Central Pacific Company. Eighteen years ago the fortunes of these four persons were liberally estimated at:

Stanford	$20,000
Crocker	$20,000
Huntington	$20,000
Hopkins	$20,000
Total	$80,000

They are now rather strikingly recorded as follows:

Stanford	$80,000,000
Crocker	$40,000,000
Huntington	$20,000,000
Hopkins' estate	$20,000,000
Total	$200,000,000

Net profits of eighteen years' railroad operations, $180,735,000.

And this is not all, as our San Francisco contemporary goes on to show. The facts are so grave that they have long since arrested the attention of the whole State and country.

Into the mystic land of the Aztecs the American newspaper is making its irresistible way. Already the city of Mexico, Chihuahua, and Guaymas each have a newspaper printed half in English, half in Spanish. With the American newspaper, American capital, and American railroads at work in the sister Republic, wonderful changes are sure to be brought about in the near future. Numerous indications point plainly to the early establishment of close business and social relations between the two countries. From the proposed commercial treaty which Commissioners Grant and Trescott have just been appointed to negotiate with Mexico we may reasonably expect great good results.

The Tombstone (Arizona) Independent says: "What the Old Man of the Mountain was to Sinbad the Sailor, the Apaches are to Arizona. They are throttling every enterprise, and pressing heavily on every industry." It is to be hoped that Gen. Crook will succeed in persuading these aboriginal persons to be good—by aid of the carbine argument.

Gov. FORSTER says that it costs Ohio $3,000,000 a year to support its poor, and that $2,500,000 of that is directly chargeable to the liquor traffic. The entire saloon interests of the State pays less than $200,000 in taxes, leaving the rest to the taxpayers to foot the balance of the cost of free trade in intoxicants.

This Herald deplores the "partial neglect" into which the Chinese question "seems to have fallen" in the present campaign. The neglect will soon be not even partial: it will be complete. There is no Chinese question now before the people.

ROMANCE AND REALITY.

Various "able editors" of the Democratic persuasion have been revelling in what they consider the tallest kind of political clover. They have been "showing up" the extravagance of the Republican administration compared with the Democratic. They have been laboring assiduously, though unavailingly, to make out "a case" for their party, and in order to do it have manipulated official figures in a way to cause them to diverge widely from the strict line of truth. This is quite natural for the able editors aforesaid; but that supreme devotion to historical accuracy which invariably characterizes the truly good brethren of the Republican faith (here we lay our editorial hand upon our Republican heart) constrains them and us to rise, point out, and mercilessly puncture the statistical romance which these journalistic Munchausens and literary Sylvanus Cobbs are trying to work off upon the defenseless public as a serial.

With this prefatory and preliminary remarks we proceed to facts.

The last preceding Congress, which had a Democratic working majority in both branches, made appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, aggregating in amount $216,694,408. The appropriations made by the last (Republican) Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1883, aggregated $239,339,981. The difference between the two is $22,645,573. But at the preceding Congress left a deficiency of $23,990,138 for the Republicans to make good, that amount should properly be deducted from the aggregate of the Republican appropriations and added to the sum total of the Democratic appropriations. This would reduce the former to $269,334,259, and increase the latter to $240,639,346. The difference is $28,704,913. Now take the pension appropriations. The Democratic Congress last year appropriated for the payment of these sacred debts due the nation's defenders the sum of $48,382,006. The last Congress appropriated for the same object $100,000,000, that being the amount required, as per requisition of the head of the Pension Bureau. As to the duty of paying the pensions due, there is no question between the parties; all agree that they must be paid, without deduction or delay. So the increased appropriation made by the Republicans for this object cannot be a subject of dispute. The amount appropriated by the Republican Congress for pensions is $31,717,694 more than was appropriated by the last Democratic Congress. This sum off-sets the above $28,741,713 apparent showing in favor of the Democratic Congress, and leaves a balance of $2,975,981 in favor of the Republican Congress.

Thus the Democratic campaign thunders destroyed without going all into two other important appropriations, viz: those for postal affairs and for the improvement of harbors, both of which had to be increased this year, and were increased with the help of Democratic votes. We have no hesitation in saying, with our contemporary of the San Francisco Chronicle, that, "on the whole, after a careful analysis of the fourteen bills, and comparing them with the appropriations made by the Democratic Congress last year, we are convinced that the appropriations for 1883 are less amenable to the charge of extravagance than those made by the Democratic Congress for 1882. They are high because of the increase of (over) $21,000,000 for pensions, the increase of nearly $4,000,000 for postal service, and because this Congress had to vote [nearly] $24,000,000 more than the last one voted to cover (scarcities entailed upon it by the Democratic Congress."

DENIS KEARNEY made a speech at Sacramento, the other evening, in favor of the Central Pacific Railroad and General Sherman. The Sund Lunt did not seem to have any difficulty in harmonizing these rumored antagonistic quantities.

SINCE September, 1881, the overland transportation from California eastward has amounted to 222,400,500 pounds. Of this amount the Central Pacific Railroad carried 124,300,000 pounds, and the Southern Pacific 108,040,500 pounds.

The first great loan authorized by the Government in 1861, amounting to $180,000,000, has just been wiped out. Of the second loan of $75,000,000, and $17,000,000 remain uncanceled. The people of the United States are debt-payers.

DAGGETT, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, reports to his friends that on his recent travels he found his party people "aroused." Yes, a good many of them are aroused against the San Jose platform.

This London News is very much concerned because Europe is short of produce this year to the tune of 799,000 tons of wheat and 343,000,000 bushels of grain.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Hon. R. P. VanHorn, of Kansas, formerly M. C., is in San Francisco.

M. H. De Young and wife, of San Francisco, passed Omaha on their way home from the East.

Judge B. L. Peel is a candidate for Probate Judge in Tombstone and Arizona county round about.

Ex-Gov. Cooper, of Arizona, has 300 head of horses on his rancho in the northern part of that Territory.

The Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada, and the Princess Louise are expected in San Francisco in about three weeks. H. B. M. S. Conus has been ordered to San Francisco to take them to British Columbia.

The Grass Valley Tidings says: "It would be funny if Sears should be appointed Collector at San Francisco. Then Burton, Superintendent of the Mint; Watson, Naval Officer, and Sears, Collector, all old Nevada county men, would have the best Federal offices in San Francisco. Nevada county is at the front."

Early in his political life, Benjamin Dismal said one day to a political opponent, as they took their umbrellas in the vestibule of the House of Commons: "After all, what is it that brings you and me here? Fame! This is the arena. I might have occupied a literary throne; but I abandoned it for this career."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[This is the Times-Mirror's Public Forum, upon which all who have anything pertinent, timely and interesting to say, on topics of current interest, may send and give their independent opinions to the public, the writers being responsible for their own sentiments and statements. Correspondents are politely urged to be brief and to the point, to write plainly on one side of the sheet only, and to use the more forcible and manly first person singular, in preference to the editorial "we."]

A Nuisance.
To the Editor of The Times:
How much longer is this Allen building nuisance to be permitted? The building torn down, and left in an unsightly condition, with Spring and Temple streets badly obstructed by piles of broken bricks, is bad enough, and perhaps unavoidable for a short season; but to be left in this condition all summer is asking too much of a patient people.

Challenge to a Game of Base Ball.
To the Editor of The Times:
In a recent issue of your paper you publish a communication from Riverside, in which the Riverside Base Ball Club claims the championship of Southern California, virtue of having beaten the Orange Club, the former champions. Since the aforesaid game was played we have challenged the Riverside Club to a game for the said championship, which challenge was refused without any valid reason. We have no objection to the Riverside Club claiming the championship as long as they are entitled to it; but until our challenge is accepted, and we are beaten, we shall claim the championship as against the Riverside Club, and should be glad to hear from any club in Southern California.

Respectfully,
I. V. B. C. C.
Los Angeles, August 18.

The "Herald" and the Law-breakers.

To the Editor of The Times:
Your esteemed contemporary, the Herald, of yesterday, says: "The San Bernardino Times of the 14th inst. makes the following melancholy admission: 'It is as if I fully agree that it is, what does it think of the way a State law, that the Supreme Court has declared constitutional, is administered right here in our own burgh, under the editor's nose. To appropriate the essential portions of your San Bernardino namesake: "We doubt if there is another place in America where there is less respect for the law than in this place." or rather is as shamelessly defied (as in Los Angeles)." No effort is made to enforce the law, while every man who chooses to break it can do so with impunity."

"For weeks (and months) warrants have been issued for the arrest of parties who have openly and defiantly violated this law, and every effort was made by certain classes and certain lawyers and certain judges to prevent and thwart the enforcement of the law." Your San Bernardino "copy" (namesake) thus eloquently closes its editorial admissions: "We demand that they (the officials) either take measures to enforce the law and order in San Bernardino, or throw down the barriers entirely, and let every one have an equal right with the favored few, to violate the law." Now, as the Herald falls into a fit of "melancholy" over the lax administration of law in San Bernardino, could it not shed a few tears over the downright defiance of the Sunday law, and the contemptible efforts of our officials to enforce it?
